

Zancara

Womens Stylish and Warm Down Coat

The Zancara is a completely new style with the potential to be a new classic in the Yeti collection. The very lady like down coat keeps you warm as well as offering a unique lightness and moveability.

One of the Zancaras key elements is the integrated power ribs. The elastic stripes serve as a decorative detail but they also provide an increased movability. As another feature Zancara is designed with a zipper in each side, to increase the movability when you get up on your bike or into your car.

Zancara comes in four colours: black, india ink, forest night and ribbon red. Zancara is available in selected shops at a retail price of €499,95.

Exclusive and ultra light filling

The essence of Yeti is down. Yeti uses only Crystal Down which is a special selection of big fluffy European down of the absolute finest quality. A single gram of Crystal Down consists of up to 1000 individual pieces of down. Therefore Yeti is optimal performance: high insulation at ultra low weight.

Zancara is made from the ultra light fabric Next to Nothing, which is the world's lightest down proof material. The weaving of Yeti's exclusive fabric is done at a highly specialized factory in northern Japan.

Packable in pocket

Zancara off course has the trademark Yeti feature: it's packable, and packs into its own left hand pocket. This is possible due to the filling, which consists of large, lofty down that are easily compressed. A packed Yeti jacket takes up as little space as two oranges – and weighs a tenth.

Yeti Down Codex

Yeti only uses European down, mainly from Poland and Germany. All Yeti down complies with the EDFA Traceability Standard.

Animal welfare is a key element for Yeti and the code of conduct is clear and monitored. Yeti only uses down that is a by-product of meat production. Yeti down comes from free-range birds with access to healthy food, water, light and shelter. The flock density, handling, and transportation are regulated. Yeti does not allow live plucking, force-feeding, or steel wire cages.

The Yeti code of conduct is based on the EDFA Down Codex and traceability (European Down & Feather Association). This is the only standard which also includes monitoring of actual down standard. The EDFA Down Codex is monitored and controlled by third party (IDFL – International Down & Feather Laboratories).

From climbers on Mount Everest to fashionistas in Milan

Yeti is the ultimate in down products. The brand is designed for discerning outdoor enthusiasts, but the ultralight exclusive design products have found their way into the fashion world.
